Hyatt Apportions State School Funds

Contra Costa Stands High in Point of Attendance.

The apportionment of school funds for the state has been fixed by Supt. Hyatt at $2,822,136.91.

State aid to schools is based on the average attendance. The apportionment is based on the average of $7.45 for each pupil, or 32 cents more than last year.

The total apportionment is made on a basis of 384,397 pupils, divided as follows: Elementary schools, 331,000; high schools, 53,397. The total apportionment for the current school year is $283,906.62 greater than last year.

Contra Costa is credited with an average attendance of 5,753, and is allowed the sum of $43,377.62. The Carquinez (Crockett) district receives $3,088.86 for the grammar schools.

The high schools of the county have an average attendance of 631 and the funds allotted the county total $5,404.19.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED

Candidates for political offices in certain localities are again in the field and you will note that most of them are making statements that taxes are too high, Government too costly, etc., etc. This is always the story before election.

Then considering a candidate for office, try and pick a man with constructive and affirmative ideas; a man with a definite program for reducing taxes and building the state up from an industrial standpoint.

Do not elect a man to office merely because he wants the job, but make him show qualifications entitling him to assume responsibilities of the office he is seeking.

What the state needs today is a conservative policy of encouragement towards industries and capital seeking investment. As one candidate says: "The more laws we have the more costly the government to the taxpayers." The lawmaking and freak legislation era should stop and the industry building legislation era should begin.

As a citizen you cannot be too careful in scrutinizing the ability of the candidates for the primary and coming election and picking men who have proper ideas and ability to lower taxes and improve the industrial situation.

The ladies brass band is strong (fortissimo) on the um-tah, um-tah boom-der-ay, tatta tah-tah!

It is conceded by all that the bond issue for school improvements will carry without opposition.

Laura A. Isom is also a candidate for city treasurer. It is whispered that she will spring a surprise when the votes are counted.

George Nickerson, the present city clerk, has no opposition. He is an efficient public servant, courteous and obliging.

The sox social given by Epworth League of the M. E. church was well "heeled" by a good program and a generous contribution.

Chris Miller, candidate for city treasurer, is recovering from his recent illness. Mr. Miller is a strong candidate for the position to which he aspires.

John H. Paul, one of Albany's well known citizens and always interested in civic affairs, has announced his candidacy for city treasurer. The Judge has many supporters, and is well qualified for the position.

Politics is working strong in Albany this spring. The offices to be filled are nearly all paid jobs, making them especially attractive at this time. The scale for town trustees, it is said, will be five "bones" per session.

L. C. Green, candidate for city trustee, has the following platform: "Honesty, efficiency and economy in the administration of the affairs of the city, looking to the proper improvement of the city, and at the same time requiring the lowest consistent tax rate based upon a fair, just and reasonable valuation of property."

In the Shadow.

The funeral of the late Robert L. Davis was held from the Kains avenue residence Thursday. Rev. Hugh Baker conducting the services. Interment was made in Sunset View cemetery. The death of Robert Davis has cast a gloom over the entire community. He had a wide acquaintance around the bay, his occupation as a painter and sign writer gaining for him a good business.

Arthur Brisbane Passes Compliment

Arthur Brisbane, of New York, who went especially from that city to address the Iowa Press Association at Des Moines last week, said this about the country newspaper: "The local newspaper, called the country newspaper, is ten, twenty times as valuable to the advertiser as the big metropolitan daily. Judge Gary, chairman of the United Steel corporation, in a letter to Mr. Brisbane, supports the latter's contention that the country newspaper is the greatest power in the advertising firmament."

John M. Eshleman Laid to Rest With Impressive Rites

Among the many beautiful tributes paid the late John M. Eshleman, lieutenant governor, Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the California University, who knew Eshleman as a student, said:

"John Eshleman seems to have died an untimely death. In reality he lived a full and abundant life."

"He knew well he was smitten with an incurable disease."

"On every hand he was advised to spare himself. He spared himself little, if at all."

"He gave of his best for every good cause and every good occasion."

"He lived the days that were given him to live joyously and in helpfulness to all who were about him."

"His death is a fearful blow to every sound interest of the state of California."

"Seldom have I known a man who trusted more implicitly his highest impulses and ideals."

"When he named for himself an ideal, he put it into action; he lived according to it.

"With a certitude that was almost fatalistic, he believed—yes, he knew, that the right was the only way and that in the right lay the only triumph."

"Jack" Eshleman could be paid no better tribute than the above. Many of his personal friends in Contra Costa county will mourn the loss of one whose friendship was lasting, and who was endeared to the common people for his sincere and genuine earnestness in advocating their cause.

The editor of The Terminal was a personal friend of Mr. Eshleman in the Imperial valley when the latter was district attorney of that county. He received an overwhelming majority in Imperial for railroad commissioner, and was up to the time of his death identified with the interests of the valley famous for its productive soil and good people.

A HYMN FOR ARBOR DAY.

(To be sung to "America")

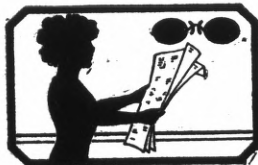

God save this tree we plant!
And to all nature grant
Sunshine and rain.
Let not its branches fade,
Save it from ax and spade,
Save it for joyful shade—

When it is ripe to fall,
Neighbored by trees as tall,
Shape it for.
Shape it to bench and stool,
Shape it to square and rule,
Shape it for home and school,
God bless the wood.

Lord of the earth and sea,
Prosper our planted tree,
Save with Thy might.
Save us from indolence,
Waste and improvidence,
And in Thy excellence,
Lead us aright.

NEW PRIZE TAKEN BY RAIDER MOEWE

German Commerce Destroyer Makes Capture and Forwards Many Prisoners to Port

London.—A recent dispatch received from Santa Cruz, Tenerife (Canary Islands), says the British steamer Westburn has put in there for repairs, flying the German flag and with a prize crew of seven men and one officer. The officer is believed to belong to the German raider Moeve.

In addition to her own crew there are 206 prisoners, taken from various British vessels, on the Westburn. The Westburn left Liverpool January 21 for Buenos Ayres.

The Westburn is a vessel of 3500 tons. She was built in 1893, and is owned by J. Westall of Sunderland. The prisoners on board came from the British steamers Flamenco, Horace, Clan McTavish and Cambridge, the British bark Edinburg and the Belgian steamer Luxembourg.

The Westburn, after her departure from Liverpool, was last reported as passing St. Vincent, Cape Verde, February 4. The Flamenco left Newport, England, for Valparaiso, January 21, and the Horace left Buenos Ayres January 26 for Liverpool. The Luxembourg was on a voyage from Newport for Buenos Ayres, having departed for the South American port January 18. The bark Edinburg sailed from Ranigoon, India, September 22, for Liverpool. The Luxembourg and the Flamenco had been placed on the overdue list. The Cambridge cannot be identified.

The fact that the steamer Westburn has among the prisoners on board men from the British steamer Clan McTavish, which was sunk after an exciting battle by the German raider Moeve off the east coast of Africa in January, seemingly would indicate that the Flamenco, Horace, Edinburg and Luxembourg had met a similar fate.

The Moeve, which captured the British South African liner Appam, which was later taken into Hampton Roads by a German prize crew, in addition to disposing of the Clan McTavish, destroyed six other steamers—the Corbridge, which probably is the Cambridge referred to in the London dispatch; Trader, Author, Ariadne, Drummond and Farringford.

The Luxembourg and the Flamenco are the largest of the vessels mentioned in the London dispatch. Both of them carry passengers. The Flamenco, which belongs to the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, was a vessel of 4500 tons, and the Luxembourg, owned by the Belgium National Transportation Company of Antwerp, displaced 4332 gross tons. The Flamenco was built in 1906 and the Luxembourg in 1908.

The Horace, which was built in 1895, was a vessel of 3335 tons and belonged to the Liverpool, Brazil and River Plate Steam Navigation Company. The Corbridge is owned by the Corbridge Steamship Company of Cardiff and was a vessel of 3387 tons.

The Edinburg was a three-masted bark of 1473 tons. She was built in 1885. Her home port was London.

BAKERSFIELD VOTES WET, SALOONS OPEN SUNDAY

Bakersfield.—Bakersfield February 25 cast a heavy vote on three liquor ordinances initiated by the temperance forces with majorities favoring the saloon men from 500 to 1000 on each. The final count shows the following figures:

For the ordinance providing for Sunday closing of saloons, 2661; against this ordinance, 3023.

For the closing of saloons at 10 at night, 2593; against early closing, 3066.

The third ordinance would have closed saloons entirely, and it received 2229 votes, with 3392 votes against it.

Fifty-two saloons were affected by the proposed laws, they now being open every day in the year and closing at 1 o'clock in the morning. Compared with the vote on the State-wide dry amendment of two years ago, the saloons increased their majority, the vote in 1914 being: For prohibition, 2343; against, 3363.

The campaign started over the rejection by the City Council of an ordinance for Sunday closing. The women took an active part in the campaign on both sides, and in spite of a heavy rain polled a large vote.

Because of the State-wide fight on saloons to be decided at the general election next November, the outcome of the Bakersfield contest was watched with interest throughout California.

The campaign was hard fought, the labor unions affected by the closing of the saloons taking an important part in their behalf.

CHICAGO WOMEN TO FACE GRAFT PROBE

Payroll of the Department of Public Welfare Held Up Pending Hearings

Chicago.—The City Civil Service Commission February 23 ordered the payroll of the Department of Public Welfare held up for investigation of graft charges made by Mrs. Page Waller Eaton against Mrs. Louise Osborne Rowe, department superintendent.

Allegations that Fred Lundin, former Congressman and present political adviser of Mayor Thompson, dominated the City Hall, and assertions of payroll padding in the Department of Public Welfare are features of the scandal in women's politics which is thrilling Chicago political circles.

It was announced that Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. Rowe, Alderman John Kjellander, Edward J. Brundage, former corporation counsel; Alderman Rodriguez, who presented Mrs. Eaton's charges to the City Council; and Mrs. Eaton's attorney, Seymour Stedman, would be summoned before the investigating committee.

In answer to reports that the Thompson majority campaign fund had been swelled by money derived from persons on the municipal payroll, Mayor Thompson said:

"The truth about the Thompson campaign fund is that I was the goat. We had been short of money for some time, and as I came downtown one day, toward the close of the campaign, I was told by several of those active in my behalf that four or five of them would sign a note, along with me, on which we could borrow $50,000 to tide us over to the end of the campaign. The liability was to be limited for each signer. I signed the note, and the money was used in the campaign."

"When the note came due the bank asked me for my personal note for the $50,000, and I gave it. I had the bank return to the other signers the securities they had put up and keep those I had pledged. Thus the matter stands now, and I cannot see why I should be ashamed of the transaction."

"The transaction is important from one standpoint—it is the first time that any man who has run for Mayor in Chicago has financed his own campaign. I do not mean to say we received no outside contributions, for we may have, but for the most part these were few and went toward organizations."

As a sidelight of the "split salary" and graft charges of the women politicians the city civil service commission gave out affidavits in which Alderman Robert M. Buck was charged with being a member of the so-called West Side vice ring of a few years ago.

Mrs. Rowe denied all allegations, saying enemies of the administration are responsible for the charges of graft.

Mrs. Margaret E. Mivelaz, sister of Mrs. Thompson, and alleged recipient of the salary graft, denied that she had ever received any financial aid in the manner charged.

Mrs. Eaton renewed her charges and asserted Mrs. Rowe had, in addition, "padded" the payroll. She said Miss Emma K. Lundby, a stenographer, was carried on the payroll without performing any service. Miss Lundby admitted she was on Mrs. Rowe's payroll for more than six months, but declared she had worked constantly.

Mrs. Eaton said Mrs. Rowe had offered to place a dummy name on the payroll as a stenographer at $80 per month during the time that her regular stenographer was in California for her health and offered to split her salary with her. This, she said, she refused to do.

Concerning the alleged proposal to carry a dummy on the payroll, Mrs. Eaton said:

"I told Mrs. Rowe it was dangerous business and that I would have nothing to do with it."

"Why, it's done all the time in the City Hall," she replied.

"Then she asked me if I did not know some woman who would be willing to have her name used—if I did not have a daughter whose name might be used. I told her I would not go into such a scheme under any circumstances."

"I prefer to wear my stripes up and down and not round the body," I said to her.

"After that I went over to the office of Seymour Stedman, my lawyer, and told him all about Mrs. Rowe's proposal."

"Steddie," I said, "did you ever hear of such an insult? What does she take me for? Can you beat it?"

"Why didn't you bluff her one in the nose?" was Stedman's comment.

SCHOOLBOY IS KILLED IN FRIENDLY BOXING BOUT

Cincinnati.—During a friendly sparring bout between William Hildebrandt and August Naisel, both 14 years of age, at a district school here, Hildebrandt was struck on the jaw and died a few minutes later. The Naisel boy's grief is so great that he has been placed in the care of a physician.

LINER MALOJA IS SUNK BY A MINE

Scores Die as Terrific Explosion Sends Steamer to Bottom Two Miles Off Dover

Dover.—The steamship Maloja, a 12,431-ton vessel belonging to the Peninsular and Oriental line, struck a mine and sank within half an hour two miles off Dover February 26. More than forty bodies have been washed ashore.

The correspondent of the London Times estimates the number of dead at 147.

Several deaths occurred on board rescuing vessels, the victims suffering from exhaustion and exposure. Captain C. Irving was in command of the Maloja. The Maloja left Tilbury on February 26 for Bombay with mails, 119 passengers and all classes aboard, and a crew numbering about 200, most of them Lascares.

The steamer had just passed Admiralty pier at Dover and was opposite Shakespeare cliff, when an explosion shook her from end to end. She listed immediately to port.

High seas were running, and the captain, realizing that great damage had been done to the after part of his vessel, tried to run her aground, but the engine-room was swamped and the ship became unmanageable.

The plight of the vessel was observed and dozens of craft went at full speed to her rescue. One of them, the British tanker Empress of Port William, of 2181 tons, struck another mine and sank near by.

Aboard the Maloja everything possible was done to get off the passengers and crew. All the boats had been swung out before she struck as a precaution against accident, and all those aboard had sufficient time to put on life belts, instruction in the use of which had been given the previous evening.

Most of the recruits had seen service. The majority of them were discharged American soldiers who had purchased their discharge with the help of the alleged conspirators.

Honolulu, H. T.—Charged with recruiting American soldiers for service in the British army, W. R. Seligson, alias W. R. Stein; C. D. Randall, alias Henderson, alias England, and a recently discharged sergeant of the Fourth United States Cavalry named Jefferson, were arrested here February 27 by United States Marshal Joseph J. Seligson was charged with being the agent between the runners in the plot and the principals, and Randall and Jefferson were arrested as runners. Other arrests will be made, it was announced, of people prominent in Honolulu life.

The three men arrested were taken before United States Commissioner George S. Curry and held to answer. Jefferson, who is understood to have entered the conspiracy as the agent of the Federal authorities, was released on his own recognizance. The others were held in jail.

From documents found on the persons of the men arrested and in Randall's trunk, it was learned that 156 recruits had been secured and that 154 of them had gone to the front. Two others were awaiting the arrival of the steamer Niagara from Australia for British Columbia.

Seligson was charged with being the agent between the runners in the plot and the principals, and Randall and Jefferson were arrested as runners. Other arrests will be made, it was announced, of people prominent in Honolulu life.

The three men arrested were taken before United States Commissioner George S. Curry and held to answer. Jefferson, who is understood to have entered the conspiracy as the agent of the Federal authorities, was released on his own recognizance. The others were held in jail.

From documents found on the persons of the men arrested and in Randall's trunk, it was learned that 156 recruits had been secured and that 154 of them had gone to the front. Two others were awaiting the arrival of the steamer Niagara from Australia for British Columbia.

Most of the recruits had seen service. The majority of them were discharged American soldiers who had purchased their discharge with the help of the alleged conspirators.

Randall told Commissioner Curry all he knew about the plot and it was on information furnished by Randall that the authorities based their prediction of other important arrests. Randall came here several months ago from Wellington, N. Z., and Seligson, or Stein, was a recent arrival from New York.

SAYS BRITAIN WILL WAR TO THE END

Asquith Makes Stern Declaration in Answering Suggestions for Peace Negotiations

London.—Premier Asquith found himself unexpectedly face to face in the House of Commons February 23 with a new demand for the Government's views on peace. He took up the gauntlet almost eagerly, and in a brilliant fifteen-minute speech made it clear that the British Government's determination to carry the war to an end without compromise had not abated since the early days of the struggle.

The only terms of peace Premier Asquith offered to the enemy countries were contained in the historic announcement which was the outstanding feature of his speech at the London Guild Hall in November, 1914, which he repeated:

He said: "We shall never sheathe the sword, which we have not lightly drawn, until Belgium—and, I will add, Serbia—recover in full measure all and more than they have sacrificed; until France is adequately secured against aggression; until the rights of the small nations of Europe are based upon an unassailable foundation, and until the military domination of Prussia is wholly and finally destroyed."

The Prime Minister's stern declaration created a deep impression on all parts of the House, and this found reflection subsequently in the lobbies. The occasion for the Premier's pronouncement was a speech which Philip Snowden of the Independent Labor party injected into the debate on the consolidated fund bill, a routine measure providing appropriations mainly for interest on the national debt.

Snowden urged that the time was ripe for peace negotiations, maintaining that there was little or no hope of a crushing victory on either side, and that if the war went on all the participants would be bankrupted in men and money.

Asquith's speech in reply was followed by a score of speeches, for the most part applauding the Premier's position. Two or three so-called peace advocates supported Snowden, but found themselves scarcely tolerated by their audience. The only applause during any of the pro-peace speeches came from a spectator in the strangers' gallery, who was promptly ejected.

Stephen Walsh, for the Labor party, denied that Snowden expressed the opinion of organized labor.

"The allies cannot make peace overtures," he said, "while the tiger has its fangs in the vitals of Belgium, Serbia and Poland."

Under the treaty between Germany and Portugal it is possible for one country to confiscate maritime property of the other under certain conditions, but none of these conditions exist in the present case.

It is understood the Portuguese Parliament has passed a law since the beginning of the war concerning belligerent ships, but that the text of this law has never been transmitted to German Ambassador von Hosen. It is unlikely that the law will be accepted if found to conflict with the treaty which is still in force.

Stockton.—The poll tax for men only should be restored in California. That is the stand taken by the Alameda District clubmen February 26 at Lodi.

When a resolution endorsing a movement to restore the poll tax to provide more money for the schools was brought before the convention, Mrs. L. T. Langworthy of San Leandro, chairman of the Resolutions Committee, was asked whether the resolution provided for a tax on both men and women. The delegate was notified the resolution provided for the restoration of the poll tax on men only. Some one suggested that inasmuch as women now vote there was no reason for exempting them from poll tax and enforcing it upon the men.

The suggestion was overruled, however, and the resolution was carried with but four dissenting votes.

A resolution asking the clubwomen to refrain from patronizing magazines which feature colored cigarette advertisements provided heated argument. Many women declared themselves against boycott methods. Mrs. J. W. Barrett of Stockton asserted the resolution would be ineffectual because the women would read the magazines they liked best, regardless of advertisements.

It was suggested that other methods be adopted in the anti-cigarette fight. The resolution failed.

All of the other resolutions placed before the convention were adopted.

Featuring the closing session of the convention was an address by David Starr Jordan on military training in the public schools. There were no contests in the election of officers, the report of the Nominating Committee being unanimously adopted.

The convention urged all clubs affiliated with the convention to join in celebrating the centenary of William Shakespeare under the direction of Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, at the State convention at Del Monte in May.

INTERNED VESSELS OF GERMANY SEIZED

Portuguese Naval Officer at Lisbon Takes Possession of Thirty-Six Ships

Lisbon.—The commander of the naval division here at 4 o'clock p. m., February 23, apparently of his own initiative, took forcible possession of thirty-six German and Austrian vessels lying in the Tagus river, hoisted the Portuguese colors on them and saluted them with a twenty-one gun salute from the Portuguese fleet.

It is said that the act of Captain Leotte Bogo, in seizing the German and Austrian ships interned at Lisbon, was totally unexpected by the governing authorities, who were unaware of the step until it had been carried out. Captain Bogo directed the operation from the destroyer Guadiana.

Despite many rumors since the outbreak of the war that Portugal was on the point of declaring a state of war with the central empires on account of her treaty relations with Great Britain, no such declaration was ever made.

The Portuguese Congress, by resolutions on August 8, 1914, and on November 23 of the same year, decided that Portugal would co-operate with the allies whenever that step seemed necessary.

The Portuguese treaty with Great Britain requires that the latter be supplied with 10,000 Portuguese troops when she is at war. Early in the war it was announced that Portuguese forces were fighting the Germans in Angola, West Africa.

Angola belongs to Portugal and had been invaded by German troops. The Portuguese casualties at that time were reported as 800, while the Germans were said to have lost 200. It was later announced that the Germans had evacuated Angola.

Efforts are being made to secure a fleet of army aeroplanes for the state fair.

A troop of U. S. cavalry will be quartered at the coming Sacramento state fair.

A San Mateo woman, Mrs. C. F. Franz, left a purse on the kitchen table containing $1,600 worth of jewels. A tramp who was employed to mow the lawn cannot be located—ditto diamonds.

Uncle Sam's big 14-inch navy guns carry 12 miles. The new 15-inch guns now being installed in the ships California and Pennsylvania will carry accurately 15 miles. A new feature in navy warfare is the six aeroplanes and their crews to be installed in the armored cruiser North Carolina. A device for launching the aircraft in any kind of weather has been adopted by the government.

Military Spies.
One of the ingenious ideas of modern war strategy is to utilize artist skill in making a drawing of a fortification without betraying its purpose on the surface. The spy makes a drawing which appears to be an ordinary landscape. If caught with it he might pose with comparative safety as an artist who had been sketching for pleasure and was entirely ignorant of the existence of any fort and its surroundings.

Interpreted according to a secret code, however, the picture reveals to the spy's government a fairly complete plan of a fort. This is indicated by the character and position of details. One kind of tree represents an armored gun turret. A bush is an observation turret. Other forms of trees are gun positions, a couple of gates are entrances to the fort, a piece of fencing is a barbed wire entanglement, lines of bushes are ditches, and so on.—Kansas City Star.

Siamese Earth Eaters.
The Lascians of Siam actually eat and enjoy earth. It has never been discovered where these peculiar people contracted this habit, though it is generally believed that it probably came about in the time of a famine, when there was nothing else to eat.

However, the habit has now got such a hold upon them that old and young, rich and poor alike, indulge freely in its consumption. It is preferred when it has been required from the vicinity of waters so that it carries with it a taste of fish. It is made into a paste substance and smothered into the ground in a hot fire. It can be obtained at markets and at stores and is served at dinners and at big functions of any description. In some parts of the Kingdom earth is sold in the shape of apples and oranges and is given out in various colors—yellow, brown, gray and even pink, which is looked upon as a very delectable luxury.

Belgrade.
Belgrade, the capital of the kingdom of Serbia, has gradually, for many years past, been losing its old Turkish aspect, becoming more modern, more European. The history of the city for nearly 1,000 years has been one of continual contests. The walls have disappeared since 1802; the last and finest of the five gates was demolished in 1808, and the citadel is not up to the requirements of modern warfare. The manufacture of Belgrade consists of arms, cutlery, saddlery, silk goods, carpets, etc. The chief buildings in the city are the royal and episcopal palaces, the government houses, the cathedral, barracks, bazaars, national theater and various educational institutions. The population is about 70,000.—Westminster Gazette.

What Interested Her.
Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, discussing the divorce evil, on one occasion said: "Love is the best foundation for marriage, of course. But common sense keeps it cool and cool things, of course, keep the best. But selfishness kills all—and some married people are as selfish as the lady to whom the palmist said, 'These lines, alas, tell me that you are destined to wear widow's weeds.' 'Oh, dear me! said the lady. 'For how long?'"

Roman Rulers.
Three of the greatest rulers Rome ever had were Spanish born—Trajan, Hadrian and Marcus Aurelius. Later occupants of the Caesarian throne born in Iberia were Theodosius and Honorius. Seneca, Martial and Quintilian, famous in Roman letters, also were Spaniards.

Few Paupers in Japan.
There are few paupers in Japan. Everybody works, and it is considered a disgrace to be supported by relatives while you have the ability to earn your own living.

Relief of Barbarity.
Balls placed on the top of gateposts are a survival of the barbaric practice of our forefathers, who hung over their gates the heads of their enemies killed in combat.
